

Financial Analysts Filled With Gloom

DETROIT (AP) — A mood of pessimism and uncertainty has dominated a semi-annual meeting of stock analysts.

Reflecting the gloom on Wall Street, one analyst said his colleagues were searching for the catalyst "that will turn this herd of bears heading for the cliff."

Chief among the topics of discussion at the meeting of the 14,000-member Financial Analysts Federation that ended on Wednesday was the future of their trade.

"The people I've met here are puzzled," said Ted Lilley, president of the 14,000-member federation. "They're gritting their teeth and talking about buying bars of gold to put under their beds."

The analysts are market advisers, and an unusually large number of top executives from major companies attended the conference, partly to boost confidence in their industries and firms.

But by and large, they ran into strong resistance.

"At last night's cocktail party, it became clear that anyone here with over $100 million to invest is sitting on the sidelines, waiting for something to happen," said Frank Cappiello Jr., president of Monumental Capital Management Inc.

"The question is, what will be the catalyst?" he said. "Somewhere along the line, something will turn this herd of bears heading for the cliff."

The analysts agreed generally that by rights there should be as much — or perhaps more — work for the analysts in bad times as good. In fact, many smaller investors simply pull out of the market in bad times.

"Incomes in our area are down," said Lilley, of New York.

And attendance at the conference was down proportionately. Only about 325 analysts paid the $265 registration for the four-day fall conference, down from 800 a year ago.

"If we are not near the bottom, this will be the worst depression the industrialized western world has ever seen, and the capitalistic system is done for," said Cappiello.

Despite gloom and uncertainty on Wall Street, leaders of the conference said this could be a good time for smaller investors to get back into the market.

Robert D. Hedberg of New York, chairman of the federation, said that many stocks and bonds are sharply undervalued at their current market price, making an upsurge seem inevitable.

"It sounds hokey, but you buy stocks when there are problems, when there's blood in the streets," said Cappiello.

More Police Called In Boston Dispute

BOSTON (AP) — State and Metropolitan policemen took up their posts in South Boston today to help local authorities quell racial violence that has increased since schools opened last month under a federal school busing order.

The contingent of 400 officers, outfitted with riot gear, were ordered into the area by Gov. Francis W. Sargent after a federal judge rejected Mayor Kevin H. White's request for 125 federal marshals to help keep the peace.

They were placed under the command of Boston Police Commissioner Robert J. DiGrazia and Police Supt. Joseph Jordan.

"They will protect the buses, the children and the schools," DiGrazia said.

U.S. District Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr., in turning down the request for federal aid, told White to seek aid from local law enforcement agencies.

"The problems here are no different from those which have been solved in 200 other cities, and they are going to be solved here. It is just a question of how long, and how much heartache, it will take," said Garrity, who had issued the busing order in an effort to integrate Boston's public schools.

Ford's Auto Mileage Plan Surprise To Own Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's pledge to improve automobile mileage 40 per cent in four years was a jarring surprise to his own Federal Energy Administration, still coaxing auto makers to agree to a 30 per cent improvement in six years.

Ford's proposal Tuesday would require an average fuel use of at least 20 miles per gallon in the 1979 new cars.

But FEA officials told a reporter Wednesday that FEA had planned to reach the 20-mile-per-gallon standard either in 1985 through a voluntary program or in 1982 through a standby plan for mandatory mileage standards.

Ford said in his economic message that he would meet with the auto industry's top management to arrange a 40 per cent improvement within four years "either by agreement or by law."

But the reactions of FEA officials raised doubts that this goal could be achieved that fast either way.

They also raised the unanswered question: who really is running energy activities these days?

Peter Griskivitch, director of FEA's Vehicle Efficiency Program, has been negotiating plans to improve gasoline mileage ever since FEA Administrator John C. Sawhill proposed the idea to auto executives in a series of personal meetings last summer.

Griskivitch said the companies still were asking a lot of questions and FEA was trying to answer them. The whole program, he said, "is still in the very formative stage."

But if FEA did not originate President Ford's abrupt acceleration

In Washington, President Ford told a news conference Wednesday that although he personally disagreed with Garrity's busing order, the order should be carried out.

"I have consistently opposed forced busing to achieve racial balance as a solution to quality education. And therefore I respectfully disagree with the judge's order," Ford said.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., later attacked Ford, saying, "...The timing of (Wednesday's) remarks can only give aid and comfort to those who would flout the court's decision at this difficult time for our country."

Boston has been wracked by arrests and injuries in racial incidents since Sept. 12, when Garrity's busing order took effect.

At first, the violence was mostly limited to South Boston, a predominantly Irish section where many children were to be bused to black neighborhoods.

This week, violence spread to the mostly black Roxbury section. Nine arrests were reported Wednesday as police dispersed crowds of rock- and bottle-throwing black youths. Police said nine persons were injured, but only one, a white man, was seriously hurt. He was hospitalized in fair condition with head injuries.

Bank Failures 'Unique'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bankers and government regulators say two record-setting bank failures illustrate the soundness of the system for assuring savers they won't be left empty-handed if their banks collapse.

The successive failures of the U.S. National Bank of San Diego and Franklin National Bank of New York have presented the deposit insurance system with its heaviest financial challenge yet, but the bankers and regulators say those are isolated instances of poor banking practice.

In both cases, all depositors were fully protected, even though government insurance guarantees full protection only to accounts of $20,000 or less.

The keystone of the insurance system is a $5.8-billion fund controlled by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the agency behind the FDIC embossed on the doors of 98.5 per cent of the nation's commercial banks. A similar agency, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., covers a like share of the nation's savings and loan associations.

The keystone is buttressed by the government's readiness to borrow $3 billion more to support savings accounts, by the efforts of bank regulators to pinpoint trouble before it mushrooms into disaster and by the readiness of the Federal Reserve System to unleash its massive money resources.

Until this year, the FDIC, which grew out of the wreckage of the 4,000 financial institutions that failed in 1933, had to dip into its insurance fund for only $100 million to make good deposits in the 502 banks that had failed. No saver covered by FDIC insurance lost a penny. FDIC's record of full repayment to 99 per cent of de-positors at insolvent banks even includes deposits exceeding the legal maximum.

But the FDIC still is paying to salvage the remains of the U.S. National Bank of San Diego, which was responsible for $934 million in deposits when it went under and was sold to Crocker National Bank of San Francisco. The latest estimate pegged the cost to the FDIC at $48.3 million.

And now the insuring agency faces the prospect of picking up after the Franklin National Bank, which held deposits of $1.7 billion when it was sold to European-American Bank and Trust Co. Tuesday. The FDIC hasn't estimated its costs for Franklin.

Federal officials consider both cases to be caused by problems unique to the two banks rather than any other underlying defect in the banking system.

In the San Diego instance, officials point to dealings between the various corporations controlled by C. Arnholt Smith, the bank's controlling shareholder. The Franklin situation was tied to the bank's speculation in foreign currency transactions, they say.

The fund amounts to only 1.21 per cent of all insured deposits, but assurances of repayment go deeper. When a bank fails, the FDIC steps in to take over a bank's property and assets to make sure depositors get their money first.

And frequently the failed bank is simply merged into another solvent bank. Thus in only 297 of the 502 bank failures since 1934 has the FDIC actually had to pay depositors.

1st Pumpkin 'World Series' Announced

Pumpkin Show has accepted a challenge to a world's heavyweight pumpkin championship.

Half Moon Bay, Calif., a pretender to the title of the Pumpkin Capital of the World, threw down the gauntlet last Friday.

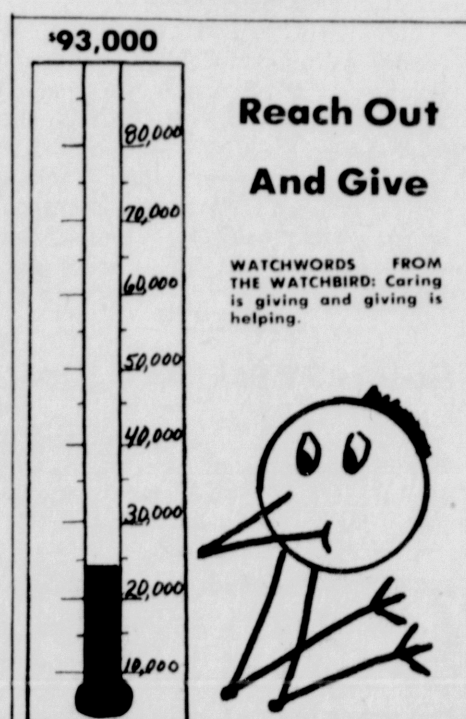

Thus, the World Series of the Pumpkin will be conducted 10 a.m. Wednesday, via telephone. The challenge is not to be taken lightly, PS Vice President Ned Harden reports.

Half Moon Bay has a monster of the pumpkin patch that could possibly tip the scales in the neighborhood of 400 pounds.

The record at Circleville Pumpkin Show is 337½ pounds, but this year that mark could be surpassed. In fact, in 1973 a much larger specimen was grown, but unfortunately it rotted before the day of the big weigh-in.

The winner will be selected on a formula including weight and diameter. The purpose of the contest, according to the San Mateo County Convention and Visitors Bureau, the challenger, is to attract national attention not only to better pumpkinship but to the two communities as well.

5 School Districts Ready To Close; Money Runs Short

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five Ohio school districts have taken the first formal step toward closing their doors, citing increasing costs and voter rejection of tax levies.

The school districts say they don't have enough money to operate for the rest of the school year.

The state auditor's office said Wednesday the five districts have applied for a "financial cash analysis." The special audit is required before the districts can ask Martin W. Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, to formally approve the shutdowns.

One of the districts, Chippewa Local in Wayne County, received audit certification last month to close on Nov. 15. However, Essex said he was informing the district he would not act on their application until after the Nov. 5 election.

Essex said all five districts had school levy issues on the ballot, and that the Chippewa schools would stay open if a 5.9 mill levy passed. The Chippewa district has 1,800 pupils.

The other districts are Bellefontaine City School District, Logan County; Twinsburg City School District, Summit County; Warren City School District, Trumbull County, and Wellington Exempted Village School District, Wayne County. Almost 22,000 pupils are enrolled in the districts.

The findings of audits in those districts will not be announced until after the election, Deputy State Auditor Thomas Ferguson said, because of a long-standing policy against the release of any audit in the 30 days before an election.

A sixth district, Danbury Local in Ottawa County, applied, but was declared ineligible because it did not meet the requirement that two tax levies be defeated in the district within the calendar year, a spokesman said.

Former Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes has maintained in his campaign against Gov. John J. Gilligan that not enough state income tax money has been channeled to Ohio schools. Rhodes has predicted imminent shutdowns.

Max Brown, Gilligan's director of communications, said state aid to the Chippewa district increased from $444,960 in 1971 to $815,249 this year. He said the state's share also increased in the other four districts.

A spokesman for the Ohio Education Association said "in the last four or five years so many districts have said they were out of money that we don't pay any attention to it."

Essex said schools have been "bombed by inflation."

He said coal prices have gone up 400 per cent in some districts. The superintendent said the income tax allowed the schools to open, but is not able to keep pace with inflation.

Consulate Hostages Freed As Terrorists Leave Country

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — American diplomat Barbara Hutchison was in good spirits and joking after seven leftist terrorists released her and six other hostages in return for safe conduct out of the country.

"Suddenly I became a tremendous bargain. I went from a million to nothing," the 47-year-old American quipped to newsmen Wednesday night after the 13-day episode ended.

The gunmen originally demanded $1 million ransom and the release of 37 leftist prisoners. They got nothing except a safe getaway.

The terrorists, who had held the hostages since Sept. 27 in a second-floor room of the Venezuelan consulate, were flown aboard a special Dominican jet to Panama, where they proclaimed victory and said they were exhausted.

As they left the Boeing 727 at Tocumen International Airport near Panama City, the gunmen, led by leftist Radhames Mendez Vargas, were met by Lt. Col. Manuel Antonio Noriega, chief intelligence officer of the Panamanian National Guard.

Miss Hutchison, director of the U.S. Information Service in the Dominican Republic, said she and the other hostages were treated well during the siege and even developed "something of a friendship" with their captors.

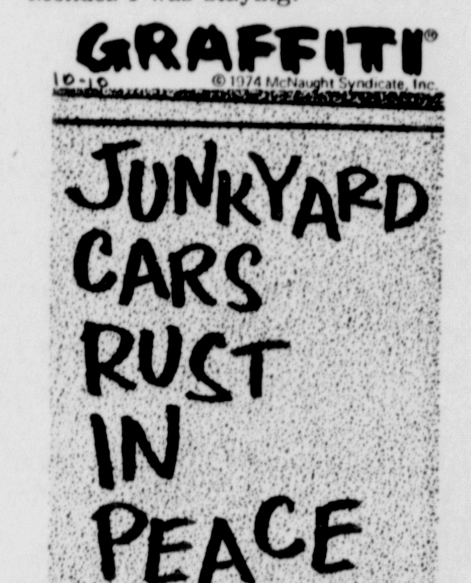

But she said there were many tense moments, the most difficult being "the waiting and then the various crises as they occur. There was a package of dynamite, and we were living with that."

She said that gunmen and hostages alike often were short of water. The government intermittently allowed food and drink to be taken to those inside the consulate.

Miss Hutchison told newsmen that despite her ordeal she intends to continue her tour in the Dominican Republic that began in 1972 after a long USIS career in other parts of Latin America.

"Mendez bet me $5 that I would have to leave the Dominican Republic because (he said) all diplomatic kidnap victims have to leave the country once they are freed," she said. "But I was informed that I would have the option to go or stay, and I told Mendez I was staying."

President Takes To Dance Floor

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — President Ford took to the dance floor last night at a crowded Republican fund-raising dinner.

His partners Wednesday night were Mary Scranton, wife of former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, and Marilyn Lewis, wife of GOP gubernatorial candidate Drew Lewis.

The President danced the polka with Mrs. Scranton, then shifted to the jitterbug for his dance with Mrs. Lewis as the band played "Sentimental Journey."

EXHIBIT AND DEMONSTRATION — George McDowell Exchange School students talked with Mr. McDowell, center, during a three-day field trip to historical sections of Pickaway County in honor of the Bicentennial Anniversary of Chief Logan's speech.

McDowell spoke to the group at Logan Elm State Park Tuesday after the students saw a demonstration of ancient weapons presented by Paul Brown. The three-day study concluded today. Program chairmen were Dean Barr and Harry Hoffer.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market surged ahead today in heavy early trading after posting its sixth biggest gain on record Wednesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials ran up a 20-point gain to 651.05 at 11 a.m. as trading ran ahead of the tape for the first hour.

Wednesday, the blue chip indicator rallied more than 28 points, the sixth largest gain on record at the New York Stock Exchange and the biggest advance since May 24, 1973, when it climbed 29.42 points.

Analysts said the market got a psychological boost from Wednesday's gains which they said caught many seasoned Wall Streeters by surprise.

The optimism was heightened Thursday by the government's report that the wholesale price index, one indicator of inflation, rose at a slow 1.2 per cent annual gain in September, the smallest rise in 11 months.

Welfare Fraud Case, Six Others Heard

One of three persons charged with welfare fraud appeared before Judge William Ammer during Wednesday's session of Pickaway County Common Pleas court. Six other cases were heard during the day including three Columbus men charged with four breaking and entering charges each.

Kathleen Vandagriff, Route 1, Lockbourne, charged with grand theft, had previously entered pleas of not guilty to the charge arising from her taking money from the Welfare Department's Aid for Dependant Children plan while she was employed. The welfare fraud amounted to over $400.

Represented by Roy Huffer, Mrs. Vandagriff changed her plea to guilty and Judge Ammer ordered a presentence report to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority. Huffer advised the court that Mrs. Vandagriff's husband was in a penal institution and she had been trying to support her children for the past three years that he had been imprisoned.

Pickaway County prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt stated that three charges of this type are currently on file and Mrs. Vandagriff's case was the first to be heard. Also charged with welfare fraud are Robert Meade whose fraudulent payments exceeded $2,000 and Dorothy Rose. Gerhardt said as far as he knew these people were the first ones ever prosecuted in the county for welfare fraud and would all be charged under the new provisions in the State Statute on grand theft.

LaGrande Mason, Columbus, was one of the two people appearing for arraignment on Wednesday. Mason was charged on a secret indictment by the September Grand Jury in its second session for grand theft and breaking and entering. He entered pleas of not guilty to both counts. The hearings on these two charges will be held at a later time.

Also indicted during the last grand jury session was Mrs. Beulah Barnhart, Route 1, Kingston. Charged with passing bad checks, Mrs. Barnhart asked the court to appoint legal counsel to represent her during her trial.

Two Columbus men charged with four counts of breaking and entering, including the C. E. Wardell Construction Company, 84 Lumber Company, American Legion Post 134 and Pickaway County Crop Service, appeared for sentencing.

Negotiations were entered into by the counsel for the defendants and the prosecutor. The agreement stipulated that if guilty pleas were entered on these four charges, the two other counts of grand theft and safecracking

Agnew Out For Year

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — One year ago today Spiro T. Agnew resigned as vice president of the United States and pleaded no contest to a charge of income tax evasion.

Today, he has an office behind an unmarked door just off the village green in Crofton, Md., where his long-time secretary, Mary Ellen Warner, courteously but firmly fends off unwanted calls and visits.

"I feel that I'm a private citizen and I'm entitled to be left alone," Agnew told a reporter last summer outside his office.

The Maryland bar disbarred Agnew as a lawyer. He is glimpsed occasionally as he flies about Europe and the Middle East on missions involving international business.

Agnew still appears to be living in style. He sold his palatial home at Kenwood outside Washington and bought a large new house near Annapolis.

The 40-page summary of evidence against Agnew unveiled a system of governmental corruption that federal prosecutors said had pervaded Maryland for years.

3 Men Share Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Two scientists working in the United States and a third in Belgium were awarded the 1974 Nobel Prize for physiology or medicine today for being "largely responsible for the creation of modern cell biology."

The $124,000 prize was shared equally by British-born Christian de Duve, 57, who works at Rockefeller University in New York City; George E. Palade, 62, a native of Romania who heads the cell biology section at Yale University's School of Medicine; and Albert Claude, 75, director of the Institute Jules Bordet at the University Libre in Brussels. Claude was born in Luxembourg.

The awarding body, the Royal Caroline Institute, cited the three for "their discoveries concerning the structural and functional organization of the cell."

would be dismissed. The agreement met with the court's approval and Gary Lynn Sampson and Randy Lee Gerber entered four pleas of guilty.

Judge Ammer sentenced Sampson to four terms of 1-5 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield on each of the four counts. Gerber was sentenced to four terms of 1-5 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary. The court ordered the four sentences against each man to run concurrently.

A third man, James Lester Gerber, involved in the same four breaking and enterings plus the safecracking and grand theft charges also entered negotiated pleas of guilty to the four breaking and entering charges. The prosecutor agreed to dismiss the other two charges and the court ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared on Gerber who has a previous record.

Negotiated pleas of guilty were entered on two counts by James Dosztal, Cleveland. Dosztal was originally charged with breaking and entering the Super X Drug Store, grand theft, vandalism and possession of criminal tools. The court accepted the pleas of guilty to the first two charges and dismissed the vandalism and possession charges as agreed by Gerhardt and the defense.

Judge Ammer sentenced Dosztal to two 1-5 year terms at the Ohio State Reformatory and ordered that the terms run concurrently.

A final appearance was made during the day by Tom Griffey who was charged with theft at Schreiner's Studio. He was sentenced to 1-5 years at the Mansfield Reformatory for Men.

Rocky Plans Explanation Of Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller has agreed to provide Congress with a written explanation of his financial gifts to aides and public figures.

Despite the offer Wednesday, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., said Rockefeller has paid $3.9 million in gift taxes since 1964 and must be recalled to explain the gifts before the Senate Rules Committee, which is considering Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president.

Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the rules panel, said any decision on whether to reopen the confirmation hearings has been put off until Congress returns from its election recess.

"I don't think it's a question of conflict of interest but rather one of influence of wealth in a political situation," Cannon said of the gifts made by the former New York governor.

Helms said that "I think that any time an elected official spends close to $1 million to make a gift to a political figure, then the public has the right to know 'why' before that person is confirmed for a high public office."

Helms' reference was to a disclosure that Rockefeller had given $550,000 to William J. Ronan, a former close aide who now is chairman of the New York-New Jersey Port Authority. Rockefeller press secretary Hugh Morrow, himself the acknowledged recipient of a $100,000 Rockefeller gift, said the Ronan gift cost Rockefeller a total of $880,000 when state and federal gift taxes are included.

Other known Rockefeller gifts include $50,000 in 1969 to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger after he left Rockefeller's employment to join the Nixon administration.

Arrest Man For Drug Possession

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt arrested Arron Thomas Coleman, 24, Columbus, for the illegal possession of an hallucinogen.

Coleman was stopped, for speeding on Route 23, by State Highway Patrolman Steve Waldman, Chillicothe Post, Wednesday night.

While talking to Coleman, Waldman noticed a hand-rolled cigarette partially smoked, but cold, on the seat. Coleman admitted to Patrolman Waldman that it was marijuana.

Patrolman Waldman notified the Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities requesting a deputy to handle the investigation.

Coleman was charged with driving 70 miles per hour in a 55 zone by the Highway Patrolman and possession of marijuana by Deputy Holt.

State Auditor Names County Coordinator

MILDRED DAVIS

State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey today announced the appointment of Mrs. William (Mildred) Davis, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, as Pickaway County coordinator for the Donahey re-election campaign.

Mrs. Davis is a life-long Democrat and has been a member of the Pickaway County Central and Executive Committees of the party and formerly served as secretary and vice chairman of the Central Committee. In 1972 she was a delegate from the 6th Congressional District to the Democratic National Convention. She is the immediate past vice-president of the Democratic Women's Club of Pickaway County.

Mrs. Davis and her husband, Bill, have operated a dairy farm in Monroe Township for the past 29 years and are the parents of four children, Mrs. Janet Ray of Harrisburg, Mrs. Joyce Beathard of Circleville, James, a junior at Wichita State University in Kansas, and Jeffrey, a junior at Westfall High School.

The newly named coordinator attended Wilmington College, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Ohio State University and done graduate work at Ohio University. She is presently teaching school at the Mt. Sterling Elementary, where she is also acting principal. She is a member of the Five Points Methodist Church.

6-County Clinic Gets High Priority For Funding

The Ohio Valley Regional Development Commission Wednesday announced that an ambulatory clinic project for a six county area including Pickaway has been given a top priority for funding.

Grant McDonald, chairman of the evaluation committee for human resources of the commission, announced the priority today. The project cost is $240,130.

The only project in southeastern Ohio to have a higher priority is a health care facility in Lawrence County.

In addition to Pickaway, other counties involved in the ambulatory clinic are: Jackson, Pike, Highland, Vinton and Ross.

Bad Crops Hurt Stock Producers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reduced 1974 grain harvests continue to bear heavily on livestock producers and there is a good chance the situation may worsen after today's crop report by the Agriculture Department.

Officials prepared to issue updated production estimates for corn, soybeans, wheat, and many other crops at 3 p.m. EDT today. Private forecasters already have indicated further declines as the result of frost damage to corn and soybeans last month.

The figures will be based on USDA surveys made Oct. 1. A month earlier, when similar surveys were made, the fall harvest situation looked like this:

Corn — 4.99 billion bushels, down 11 per cent from 1973 output.
Soybeans — 1.32 billion bushels, down 16 per cent from last year.
Wheat — 1.79 billion bushels, up 5 per cent from 1973.
Cotton — 13.2 million bales, up 2 per cent from last year.

Meantime, on the eve of today's crop report, the department said "feed supplies and prices are the critical concerns" facing livestock producers in the coming year.

"Prospects for reduced feed grain and soybean output have resulted in rising prices and cutbacks in livestock feeding," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said.

"Hog producers are planning to farrow the fewest number of sows this fall since 1965," the board reported. "Numbers of cattle on feed are the fewest in over six years, and poultry production is being cut a tenth."

The board, in a preliminary report on the livestock and meat situation, noted that it takes time for producers to adjust to grain price developments and that hog slaughter will continue to be up this fall from a year ago.

"But look for smaller supplies and higher prices next year," the report said.

Cattle slaughter is up from a year ago and last summer, with all of the increase coming from cows and steers and heifers which have had little grain fed to them.

"Grain-fed cattle slaughter is trailing last fall but probably will total a little larger than in the (past) summer," the report said. "Average cattle slaughter weights are now lighter than in the summer or a year ago."

Officials said market prices of grain-fed cattle probably will average $42 to $44 per 100 pounds at Omaha during the fourth quarter and may rise to the $43 to $45 range in the first quarter of 1975. In the fourth quarter of last year, they averaged slightly over $40.

Hogs were estimated at $33 to $35 per hundredweight on the average at Midwest markets in the fourth quarter, down from nearly $41 in

Rhodes Proposes Federal Help For Fuel Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Gov. James A. Rhodes called Wednesday for the federal government to begin paying part of the utility bills of retired persons on fixed income.

Fair Weather Favors Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clear skies were the rule across the nation today, although scattered showers remained over the Rockies. Clouds also blanked the sun in parts of the Great Lakes region, New England and Washington.

New England claimed the coldest weather, with most of the nation having temperatures overnight from the 40s to the 60s.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 at Houlton, Maine, to 78 at Key West, Fla.

October-December last year. The outlook for the first quarter of 1975 is in the $38 to $40 range.

nesday for the federal government to begin paying part of the utility bills of retired persons on fixed income.

In a statement released by his campaign headquarters, the Republican gubernatorial nominee said rates for gas and electricity and other utilities should be frozen, with the government picking up the tab for future increases.

Rhodes indicated the program in Ohio would cost about $200 million a year in two or three years, at a rate of $200 to $250 per year for about one million retired Ohioans.

Rhodes compared the proposal with Medicare and Medicaid programs.

Effective Protest

Utilities and industries in the United States are not unique in having run into environmental obstacles to expansion. In Japan, something of the ultimate example of delayed expansion is provided by Narita International Airport.

Built at a cost of $533 million, the airport is Japan's largest and one of the most modern in the world. But, although completed two years ago, Narita has yet to see its first plane land or take off.

Eight official opening dates have been set and abandoned because of protests from both farmers and surrounding residents. With land at a premium in overcrowded Japan, the farmers did not want to see the airport's vast acreage taken out of production. And the residents do not want to live with the noise and pollution attendant to major airports.

So, traffic jams at other Tokyo airports continue, as Narita rapidly becomes a monument to poor planning and poorer public acceptance. It may open in time, but that time is not in sight.

A Dutch Treat

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Bill Buckley, provocatively brilliant brother of the coldest fish to swim in the muddled waters of Congress since Hamilton Fish Sr., was introduced recently at a New York luncheon by toastmaster and fellow scholar William Morris as the closest approach we have in these grubby times to a "Renaissance Man."

Suits me. Versatile Bill can face up to what Herbert Bayard Swope called "The Curse of Everydayness." His hours through the week are consumed by writing, editing, speaking, debating, yachting, financing, handling a fractious clipboard and guests and audience on TV, and — from an illustration in a recent in-depth profile — boning up on how to play piano as good as Harry Truman.

(As for Swope's "The Curse of Everydayness," Westbrook Pegler, who might have included Buckley among the only persons he ever liked — right up there with Calvin Coolidge, Ace Hudkins, and Snow White — once took care of that noblest creature of the N. Y. World. Peg wrote, "All gall is divided into three parts: Herbert Bayard Swope.")

Buckley spoke at New York's Dutch Treat Club, which was founded around the time of James Buchanan or Abner Doubleday or thereabouts. We used to have a limpid plastic rose standing on a dusty stem at luncheons, to warn all in attendance at the Dutch Treat club that everything said by a speaker (or sung by a singer, or joked by a joker) was sub rosa, off-the-record, in-the-room. It may still be standing somewhere, in the Smithsonian or the men's room at the scene of the weekly meets, Park Avenue's Regency.

The Club has had a better record on "leaks" than any Administration since its founding, which is most commendable. No publisher, reporter, nor, more recently, TV bloke, as far as I know, ever burst out of the room to call the office and spread the word that, for example, Sen. Joe McCarthy put a knock on Eisenhower, Eisenhower said something in favor of motherhood, and Gen. Alexander Haig made history by talking 45 minutes without using a predicate.

As a member of the Dutch Treat Club for 25 years, I am pledged not to issue a word of what Bill Buckley said, or the young coloratura soprano who sings Adele in the New York City Opera's "Die Fledermaus" sang, save that she was great and Bill was ... well, let's take a chance and say he was just plain Bill.

He was not enough to accept that all of us would grab, if offered: a seat in the U.S. delegation to the United Nations Assembly, and he served in that capacity during the past session of what surely must be the most cowardly tribunal since the one that passed the death sentence on Christ. What he talked about at the Dutch Treat Club, the restrictions placed upon such predecessors as Eleanor Roosevelt (and Shirley Temple) cannot be quoted here.

But, since you're not a member of MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The fight for federal help to save economically troubled Pan American World Airways is not restricted to executive suites. It also involves people behind reservation desks, in maintenance hangars and on the runways.

Like the executives, the employees are reacting to the Ford administration's refusal to grant an emergency subsidy that Pan Am has said is crucial to its survival.

The employees have organized in such Pan Am bases as Miami, Berlin, New York, Karachi, San Francisco and San Juan in an effort to keep the company from going under.

They have outlined their complaints in full-page newspaper advertisements — paid for with $10,000 raised among themselves.

Committees have been sent to Washington to talk to congressmen; a group of pilots' wives is distributing copies of an article which outlines alleged unfair treatment; "Support Your U.S. Airline" bumper stickers were printed by employees in a company printing facility; retired stewardesses are donating proceeds from a cookbook they're selling in Miami.

An employees group in Karachi has even offered to return all the overtime pay received last month. Some international crewmen have offered 10 per cent of their salaries as loans.

"It's going beyond the job," said Sandra Del Conte, who has worked at the Miami reservations desk since 1965. "It's a cause. This is the American way. Everybody is pulling together."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Which treatment for hemorrhoids is more effective, injections or surgery?
Mr. R. K., Ore.

Dear Mr. K.:

Injections of chemicals into the hemorrhoids are used in carefully selected cases. The results can be excellent.

It must be emphasized that injections as a form of treatment should not be used only because the patient wants to avoid surgery. There are special indications for surgery which may be more effective than the injections.

Specialists in this field of surgery (proctologists) and general surgeons pattern their judgment on the needs of the individual patient.

What is the life expectancy of someone who has been told that he has cystic disease of the kidney?
Mr. H. B. P., Minn.

Dear Mr. P.:

Polycystic disease of the kidneys is sometimes seen at birth due to some abnormality in development.

Occasionally, cystic disease occurs later in life.

There is no possible way to prognosticate life expectancy. Kidney function tests can determine if the cystic disease is interfering with kidney function. Even with severe interference, with the wondrous working of this organ, the new process of dialysis with kidney machines can prolong life despite the presence of cystic disease.

Doctors should never be pressured into prophesying about the duration of any illness. The changes of being wrong are great because of the many variables involved in any serious condition.

I have heard about the "mask of pregnancy." What is it?
Mrs. B. J., Iowa

Dear Mrs. J.:

Pregnant women once in a very great while develop a brownish discoloration of the cheeks.

This blemish is known as "chloasma." It usually disappears after the child is born. It probably is caused by temporary hormone imbalance that occurs during pregnancy.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH...
Firm but reasonable discipline is an excellent way to tell children how dearly you love them.

Price-Fixing Crackdown Given Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — Butchers, bakers and zippermakers already are feeling heat from the Ford administration's campaign against price-fixing. Future targets may face tougher treatment and million-dollar fines.

President Ford gave the attack fresh impetus Tuesday when he promised stern enforcement of antitrust laws and asked Congress for harsh penalties for violators.

No President since Harry S. Truman has taken such a strong public stand against illegal corporate conspiracies, said government antitrust lawyers.

The administration attack is designed to end business practices which diminish competition and force prices up for the consumer.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Thomas E. Kauper, head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, has estimated that such practices cost Americans as much as $80 million a year.

"I am determined to return to the vigorous enforcement of antitrust laws," Ford said as he sent Congress proposed legislation raising the maximum fine for antitrust violators from $50,000 to $1 million for corporations and $100,000 for individuals.

With his statement, Ford took up an attack which has been gaining momentum in the department and the Federal Trade Commission.

Though he endorsed its key elements, Ford said nothing about Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's plea for stiffer prison sentences as well as fines for corporate conspirators.

Saxbe called on Friday for legislation raising the maximum prison term for price fixing from one year to five years.

Ford's written proposals for tougher fines were sent immediately to Congress where a House committee earlier in the day approved legislation setting the maximum corporate fine at half the amount Ford asked. The bill sets the individual fine at $100,000, as the President requested.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

He Needs His Father

DEAR ABBY: I needed some Scotch tape so I looked in my son's desk for some, and noticed the beginning of a letter my son had written to his girl friend. It read, "I am only interested in being stoned, spending money and sex."

I read no further. My first impulse was to confront him with this, but then he would say I had no right to go snooping through his desk.

I don't think I should go on ignoring this. I would appreciate some advice. He is 18½.

BEWILDERED FATHER
DEAR FATHER: You could be about 17 years too late. It won't help you now to be reminded that you failed to build the kind of father-son relationship that inspires trust, confidence and total honesty. It's possible that what you read did not reflect your son's thoughts accurately, however.

Don't tell him what you saw, but try to get a dialogue going so you can get inside his head. Encourage honesty, and no matter what he says, be cool, and don't put him down or make him feel guilty. If you can develop candid two-way communication you'll be able to influence and eventually help your son. He doesn't need punishment. Father, he needs a mature understanding friend.

DEAR ABBY: About a week before our daughter and her steady graduated from high school, they told us that she was pregnant and they wanted to get married.

There was long silence, then my husband said: "We've all made mistakes in our lives, but some of us never got caught. Now you two kids will have to excuse us for five minutes while we plan our daughter's wedding."

Then Dad led me into the bedroom, handed me $25 and said: "Let's see if you're as smart about money now as you were 25 years ago."

Needless to say, time was short, so I went downtown the next morning and bought six yards of yellow cotton, two simple formal patterns, two yards of pink lace, two yards of ivory lace, and some pink and ivory ribbon—all less than $10. (I had $15 left over for the flowers and reception. Boy, I had money to burn!)

My younger daughter (age 15) and I made the dresses. I baked the wedding cake and made punch. Only the very immediate families were invited to the wedding.

Our minister performed the ceremony in front of our fireplace, which was decorated with greenery from our garden and two white candles. The girls were beautiful in their simple dresses with their long black hair tied back with ribbons to match their dresses. The bride carried a single ivory carnation, and her sister, a pink carnation.

We made sure the fridge was well stocked, and Day, Sister and I spent the weekend in a neighboring town with Dad's brother.

Dad says I'm still as smart about money as I was 25 years ago.

NO NAMES PLEASE
DEAR NO: You're not only smart about money, you are wise about other things, too. And so is your husband. CONFIDENTIAL TO "BLISSFUL IN EVANSVILLE, INDIANA": You are mistaken. No one said "ignorance is bliss."

The quote is, "Where ignorance is bliss, tis folly to be wise."

MR. AND MRS. PAUL CURTISS IRELAND

Stephanie Marion Maloney Weds Paul C. Ireland

Mrs. Stephanie Marion Maloney and Mr. Paul Curtiss Ireland were united in marriage Sept. 21st in a ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt, Hereford, Texas, with the Rev. Roger Knapp, First Presbyterian Minister at Hereford officiating.

The bride, who resides in Big Spring, Texas, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Marion 217 N. Scioto St., Circleville, Ohio and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ireland of Sweetwater, Texas.

The rites took place before a fireplace covered with greenery highlighted by matching arrangements of yellow and white daisies, gypsophila and yellow tapers.

Mrs. Maloney's small son Paul Frank was a member of the wedding party.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holt was the organist and Gary Parker, college roommate of the groom sang and played the guitar.

The bride's floor length gown with empire waist was of pale blue crepe with a lace bodice trimmed with daisy medallions. She wore a crown of gypsophila. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white lace basket of white daisies and gypsophila trimmed with blue love knots.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Ed Seay of Big Spring who wore a floor length yellow gown trimmed in white lace. She carried a white lace basket of yellow daisies and gypsophila. Her jewelry was a daisy locket, a gift from the bride.

Best man was Mr. W. M. Bonasio, of Dallas, Texas, a cousin of the groom.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holt. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth decorated with daisy nosegays. A candelabra decorated with yellow and white daisies graced the center of the table. The wedding cake was topped with a pair of heirloom wax wedding hands from Germany.

For the wedding trip to Padre Island the bride wore a floral print pant suit with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Ireland will be at home at 538 Westover Drive, Apt. 206, Big Spring, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Circleville High School and Riverside Whitecross School of Nursing in Columbus, Ohio. She is serving as Director of Nursing at Mountain View Lodge in Big Spring. The bridegroom is a graduate of Austin College in Sherman, Texas and is employed by Surgical Medical Supply of Abilene, Texas.

Attending the wedding from Circleville was the mother of the bride, Mrs. Frank Marion of 217 N. Scioto St.

A dinner for the wedding party, relatives and friends was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ireland, at the Hereford Country Club the evening before the wedding.

CAC To Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Child Advancement Club members are making preparations to celebrate the club's 25th anniversary this month.

The club when organized had 15 members with Mrs. Donald Woodward serving as its first president. Child Advancement Club is a branch of Ohio Child Conservation Club. At the time it was organized there were two other clubs in Circleville, Child Study and Child Culture. Any member belonging to these clubs is invited to attend the celebration.

Membership of the club is now 11 with one charter member, Mrs. Donald Pontious, still active. Several of the members have been with the club for 20 years or more. Mrs. Maynard Marshall is the current president.

The anniversary celebration will be held 8 p.m., Oct. 23rd, in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society. Any member or former member not contacted and wishing to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Robert Young, Route 1, Circleville 474-2051.

FAMILY SUPPER

Green pea soup with Mary Greene's dumplings, sliced ham, salad, fruit and beverage.

MARY GREENE'S DUMPLINGS

May be used with stew as well as in soup.

1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
7 tablespoons flour
Pinch of salt
Large egg

In a small saucepan bring water to boiling point; add butter and melt. Over low heat add flour and stir until mixture leaves sides of pan. Remove from heat. Add egg and with a spoon beat until smooth and velvety. Have 1 quart water and 1 teaspoon salt simmering; drop mixture, by level teaspoonfuls into water; cover and simmer until cooked through — 10 to 15 minutes. Drain and add to hot soup. Makes 24 miniature dumplings — 4 to 6 servings.

RANGETOP DINNER

Panned lamb chops, skillet vegetables, salad, pears Helene, beverage.

SKILLET VEGETABLES

1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 cups diced (1/2 inch) unpeeled eggplant
1 cup thinly sliced scallion, green tops included

1 large green pepper, cut in thin strips

1 large tomato, diced
1/4 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon sugar

In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter; add the vegetables and water; sprinkle with the seasonings; mix well. Simmer, covered and adding water as needed — 2 tablespoons at a time — until eggplant is tender — 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Monday Club To Meet

Mrs. James Reichelderfer will present a paper on "Spirit of Education" at the 8 p.m., Oct. 14th, meeting of Monday Club in the Historical Society Museum.

A meeting of the executive board at 7:30 will precede the regular service.

Mrs. Dean Logan will serve as reporter for the evening.

New Officers Elected By Salem UM Women

A slate of officers was presented and accepted unanimously during the recent meeting of Salem United Methodist Women in the home of Mrs. Marge Evans.

Mrs. Delbert Poling, vice president, presented a program using the theme "God's Love." Scripture was taken from 1 Corinthians. "Lord And King" was read by Mrs. Poling. "Jesus Loved everyone because they needed it rather than deserved it, it was his nature to love" was a phrase of a reading by Mrs. Don Minor, and a reading by Mrs. Darrell O'Dell said "No love can compare with God's love toward man. But only when we feel his presence can we really know his love."

Mrs. Poling read "Love And Faith" and used a soda bottle to illustrate how God's love can change lives. A dirty bottle was used to show a person lost in sin, a clean one as a person with a clean outward appearance, and a new full bottle illustrated a person with love flowing to Jesus and receiving his love and filled with faith. Mrs. Poling sang "Somebody Love Me" accompanying herself on the guitar. She gave each person present a pencil with the motto "Smile - God Loves You."

Mrs. Darl McAfee, president, conducted the business meeting. Get well cards were signed for members and the flower fund gift was presented to Mrs. Marie Boldoser.

Mrs. Boldoser, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers as: Mrs. McAfee, president; Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, vice president; Mrs. Robert Nothstine, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Boldoser, secretary; Miss Betty Boldoser, treasurer and Mrs. Richard Hildenbrand, assistant treasurer. They were installed at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Ira Barr.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D., Bournville) stated today that he supports all three constitutional amendments to be voted on this November in the General Election.

"Issue 1" explained Shoemaker, "will provide for a reduction in taxes of permanently and totally disabled persons by lowering the real estate taxes on their homesteads." Shoemaker added that under current Ohio law property is taxed by a uniform rule according to value. The only present exception to this rule provides for laws which reduce taxes for residents 65 years of age and older through a reduction in the value of their homesteads.

"Issue 2" would repeal the requirement that the Governor appoint a director of public works for a one year term. "Last year," stated Shoemaker, "the General Assembly established a new department, the Department of Administrative Services, which incorporates the former Departments of Public Works, State Personnel, and Finance. The director of this new department, by law, is appointed by the Governor to serve at his pleasure with the advice and consent of the Senate. As we no longer have a Department of Public Works, this amendment will simply update the constitution to our more efficient method of operation."

Shoemaker went on to explain that "Issue 3" which will appear on the November 5th ballot: "Presently, in Ohio the purpose for which public industrial development revenue bonds may be issued include the financing of facilities for industry, commerce, distribution and research; to create jobs and employment opportunities; and to improve the economic welfare of the people of Ohio. The financing of these projects comes from the money raised through issuing revenue bonds or through guarantees of loans, while the operation of the facilities generates money for repayment. Money raised by taxation, however, may not be obligated or pledged for payment of the bonds or guarantees. This amendment increases the purposes for which the bonds and loan guarantees may be used to include the preservation of existing jobs; the control of air, water, and thermal pollution; the disposal of solid waste; and the construction of gas and electric utility service facilities; for pollution control or solid waste disposal."

All three of these amendments are examples of the continual progress of our state under the Gilligan administration," concluded Shoemaker. "I support them and encourage my constituents to add their support."

4 Battle Obscurity For Office

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—At least four candidates for national and state office from northeastern Ohio are challenging one of the most formidable opponents a politician can face relative obscurity.

Of the four, two from each end of the political spectrum seek the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum. One has joined the race for lieutenant governor.

Philip Lazar and Herman Kirsch are Socialist Workers Party candidates for senator and lieutenant governor, respectively. Richard Kay, state chairman of the American Independent Party, and Kathleen Harroff, state chairman of the Libertarian Party, also seek to succeed Metzenbaum.

Lazar, 25, making his first run for public office, is a veteran of antiwar and trade union movements. He was Ohio coordinator of the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, which packed off 17 busloads of Clevelanders to the April, 1971, peace march in Washington, D.C.

He also was an officer of the Peace Committee of Local 46 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Lazar considers his background good training for a senator.

"I'd scream bloody murder at any new Watergate-type revelations," he said. "I'm appalled to learn that congressmen knew since April what President Ford admitted last week—that the CIA has continually intervened in places like Chile."

One good way to fight inflation would be to cut back on government spending for its 2,000 military bases around the world, or use the money to build schools, hospitals and low-income housing, he suggested.

Kirsch, bespectacled 53-year-old tool grinder from Shaker Heights, cleaves to his party's line in opposing the two major political parties on grounds they merely support a capitalistic system which needs changing.

He said he would spread the SWP doctrine of a 30-hour work week for 40 hours pay to reduce unemployment and for an independent labor party to represent workers.

The U.S. is one of only two or three major nations in the Western World without such a party, Kirsch said. "Government estimates 100,000 workers are killed in job-related accidents every year, and over a million are injured," he said. "Under any humanitarian system you'd expect to find a cash program to stop such carnage."

"But little appears being done and I don't think you'll find the Republicans or Democrats biting the big business or big labor hands that feed them."

Kay, a Cleveland attorney and conservative activist, noted for his defense of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., said he is running for the Senate as an independent to give voters a candidate they know is not involved in Watergate-type political operations.

"Ralph Perk's endorsement of the Nixon pardon and John Glenn's willingness to toe the Democratic party line in return for support shows my opponents are more concerned with party loyalty than with loyalty to principle," said Kay.

Kay advocates repeal of the federal law authorizing Americans to give $1 from income tax returns to one of the major political parties. He would replace it with a bill allocating money to educate people in their responsibility to support their favorite candidates with a small contribution.

"Ultimately the American people is responsible for Watergate," Kay said. "They have abdicated their responsibility to support candidates to big-money interests."

"With a good public relations campaign we could raise the number of persons contributing to political campaigns in this country from 500,000 to 10 million. And, it would dilute the influence of big labor and big business."

Miss Harroff, a manufacturer's representative from Bedford, has opposed government economic controls, federal aid to schools and prosecution of "victimless" crimes such as obscenity, prostitution and drug use.

Sunny, mild weather is forecast for Ohio for the next two days as a weak cold front moving across the state was expected to dissipate today.

Temperatures were expected to climb into the 60s over most of the state today with, low 70s over the southern half.

A high pressure center moving across the eastern portion of the state is expected to bring a warming trend with southerly winds. Lows tonight are to be in the 50s, with highs Friday in the 70s statewide.

Skies were clear across Ohio Wednesday night with some areas of fog forming during the early morning hours. Temperatures were mostly in the 40s during the night although readings dropped into the upper 30s in Toledo.

Who's Who Features Student

TIMOTHY WILKINSON

Timothy A. Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, Middletown, was recently notified that he will be featured in the eighth annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students". Wilkinson is a 1974 graduate of Circleville High School and is currently attending the Ohio University branch campus at Chillicothe where he is studying civil engineering.

In high school Wilkinson was active in AU, class play, football and wrestling and served as a Red Cross helper. He won first place in the South Central Ohio League wrestling meet in the 185-pound class and was named to the all-league wrestling team.

Biographies of the featured students will appear in the student award publication and all Who's Who students will compete for ten scholarship awards funded by the publishers of the book. Students throughout the nation are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service.

Metzenbaum Wants Oil Chief Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Howard Metzenbaum said Wednesday he hopes President Ford will withdraw the nomination of a former Exxon oil executive to a federal energy post.

The Ohio Democrat said the nominee, Melvin A. Conant, received a $90,000 gift from the company when he quit to work for the government.

Metzenbaum said Conant, who has been acting director of international economic affairs of the Federal Energy Administration, is "oil company oriented, but I want to emphasize I do not question the man's integrity."

Metzenbaum said he told Conant that he, Metzenbaum, feels the oil company "has him" because of the bonus the company gave him.

All Nixon appointments requiring Senate confirmation are going to be withdrawn by the White House and resubmitted following the congressional recess, Metzenbaum explained.

"I would hope that the new President would recognize the American public would have difficulty in understanding

Fire Chief Reminds Residents Of Winter Heating Hazards

Those unexpected cool periods in late summer and early fall should be a good reminder to everyone that this is the time of year to have home heating equipment checked.

That is the advice of Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe of Circleville who says, "Most people wait too long. Cold weather is upon them, and they have to begin using their heating equipment before they think about having it checked."

Every winter too many unnecessary deaths can be attributed to faulty appliances and heating equipment Chief Wolfe says, in noting that now is the time to make sure your equipment will operate safely and trouble-free this winter.

"Making certain that all appliances and heating equipment are in proper working order could save your life," he said.

"Whenever combustion takes place without sufficient oxygen, carbon monoxide gas is produced," Chief Wolfe said. "Carbon monoxide is colorless and odorless and because it gives no warning it's often referred to as 'the silent killer'. Sometimes headaches and dizziness are the only symptoms."

Chief Wolfe also cautioned against home repair jobs, should a do-it-yourself inspection reveal something is wrong.

"The dollars you spend for a qualified serviceman may not only save you money in lower fuel costs; they'll also help assure your family's safety," he said.

When inspecting existing heating equipment, Chief Wolfe outlined the following "do's and don'ts":

- Do — see that heating equipment is vented to a good chimney.
- make sure that the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the chimney opening to see if it is drawing well.
- be sure the vent pipe goes up hill from heating equipment to chimney.
- use a safety thimble to keep the vent pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal thimble into chimney with cement.
- be sure the chimney has a cleanout opening under the vent pipe and be sure the opening is covered with a cap.
- allow some outside fresh air into the space where the heating equipment is located.

- Don't — put a damper in the vent pipe.
- try to get more heat out of your heating equipment than it is built to produce. If your rooms don't heat properly, you may need a larger heater.

- seal furnace room windows and doors with tape and rags. Your heating equipment needs fresh air to burn properly without creating fumes.
- waste a second in getting everyone out of the house if you smell fumes or awaken with a headache and suspect your heating equipment.
- put off calling a serviceman or other qualified person if your heating equipment is not working properly.
- use your cooking range top or oven for heating your home.

If you are buying new heating equipment, Chief Wolfe suggested the following four-point checklist: 1) Be sure it has a place for a vent pipe connection. 2) Arrange installation by a qualified installer. 3) Be sure it is inspected and approved. 4) Get clear and complete instructions for safe operation of the unit.

And my husband said putting down a new floor was man's work...

Now he says I had help. I did from my Armstrong retailer. He gave me tips on installation, tools, and helped me choose the right floor for my room. He even gave me a "how to" booklet. Then, in much less time than I thought it would take... done! Suddenly the kitchen looks new again.

PTB
Well, it's that time of the year once again when parent-teacher organizations get into gear for action and the Jackson-Westfall elementary PTB (Parents-Teachers-Boosters) is no exception.

The first meeting will be held this coming Monday, 7:30 p.m. and Mrs. Bill Commeyers (Candy), president, extends a cordial invitation to each and every interested parent, teacher and person of the school community to please attend. It will be an opportunity to meet with our new principal (Mr. Anderson), the faculty, school board and so forth.

Mr. Anderson is not new to Westfall school district since he has guided the "ship" at Derby school for several years and will continue to do so while at the same time he will serve as Jackson principal, also. Come and welcome all the new faculty members and welcome back those who have been serving so well in past seasons.

A pie baking contest will be a feature of the evening's program. Anyone wishing to enter may do so with the choice of pie being either pumpkin or apple. First, second and third prize will be awarded. The pie entries will be served as refreshments at the conclusion of the evening.

Also on the program will be special music provided by Mrs. Marvin Rhoades (Sue) and Mrs. Glenn Whitten (Bev).

One of the really fun things planned for the very near future is a donkey basketball game. Publicity on this will be forthcoming as soon as a firm date is established and plans are full speed ahead.

Oh, woe is me since one of my very favorite young people had the misfortune to tumble from a tree and quite seriously injure himself.

Tow-headed Kenneth Horch of the merry blue eyes and jolly chuckle was following the adventuresome spirit of all boys and investigating the heights of a backyard tree at the home of his parents, Bill and Marcia Horch, when "kaboom" to the ground far below he fell.

Rushed to Children's Hospital, Kenny was admitted and underwent the ordeal of interior and exterior stitches, the setting of broken bones and just plain being doggone sick. He was discharged on Tuesday and is recuperating at home. It will be a while before he can resume his classroom work as a sixth grader at Jackson school.

Sunday was the kind of beautiful day that must inspire poetic rhymes from those who have that special talent.

Going to Mt. Victory and the Plaza Inn for their scrumptious buffet were Mary Alice Greenwood, Edna Newhouse, Marilyn and Ron Bush, Papa Bill Easterday and yours truly. We all thoroughly enjoyed the lovely scenery along the way and the near perfect weather added to the contentment of the day.

And, yes, we all would recommend the trip up there for Sunday buffet. Very good.

Floyd and Frances Thompson of Stoutsville have been spending considerable time with Frances' parents, Luther and Hattie Anderson who are the very nice neighbors of ours to the west across the street.

You would never believe they are both of senior citizen status what with the outstanding gardening, the beautifully kept lawn and the brightly blooming flowers. Neat as a bandbox at all times. Luther even grows his own tobacco supply each year!

Have you ever wondered what veterinarians converse about when together? If so, that mystery could have been solved with a bit of eavesdropping at the home of Dr. Paul and Irma Fenstermaker this past weekend because they had three classmates and their wives as house guests.

Graduates of OSU Vet School and good friends then and throughout the years the reunion was a most pleasant time (and the weather couldn't have co-operated more, that's for sure).

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Clemmons came from Chagrin Falls, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Deacon drove in from Eaton, and making the foursome complete were Dr. Harold Amstutz, Director of Clinics at Purdue University and his Mrs.

It had been nearly ten years since some of the "buddies" had been together so there was some lively "Catching up" to do. Tremendous!

Arrests

POLICE

Jack D. Kramer, driving while intoxicated.

This next week coming up promises to be super fantastic in our household. Expected up from Cincinnati and Mount St. Joseph College are Maria Martha Arguello, her cousin Ana Arguello and another lovely gal from Nicaragua who is also a Mount student, Maria Isabella.

Sister Margaret Elizabeth and Sister Mary Declan have indicated they hope to come, too. None of the five have ever heard of the Pumpkin Show let alone attending one so what a "ball" we will have.

Driving over from Indiana will be my cousins Bud and Bernadine Barker and Brian and anticipating flying over in their own plane are Ron and Rosetta Barker and Christine. The more the merrier and merry it will be. Also invited for that week end is Randy Howell of Flushing.

Down Woodlyn way the Thompsons, Marvin, Dolly, Shirley, Vicki, Brad and German Naranjo are eagerly awaiting word from Gustavo Naranjo and his wife of near Abilene, Texas that they will be here in time for the Pumpkin Show. Gustavo is a brother of German. He (Gustavo) is a Veterinarian here in the U.S.A.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care.

Seek To Make Public Rhodes Testimony On KSU Shooting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland attorney Steven A. Sindell has filed a motion in federal court here challenging former Gov. James A. Rhodes' efforts to keep secret the testimony he gave in the civil damage suits arising from the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

Sindell, who represents parents of students who were killed or wounded at Kent State, filed a motion in U.S. District Court Wednesday opposing Rhodes' request that his deposition be kept secret until after the Nov. 5 election.

Rhodes, a Republican, is seeking his third term as governor, running against incumbent Gov. John J. Gilligan.

Rhodes gave his deposition in Cleveland last week. Judge Don J. Young of Toledo temporarily sealed the deposition at the request of Rhodes' attorneys.

Attorney Burt J. Fulton said disclosure of the deposition could "distort the public's perception of candidates for office and...prejudice and color the mandate of the electorate."

Sindell argued in his motion that Rhodes failed to show good cause why his deposition should be sealed. He said the public is entitled to know what goes on in the courts.

Sindell also challenged Rhodes' contention that the testimony should be sealed until criminal cases have been completed against eight former Ohio national guardsmen who were indicted for violating the civil rights of the slain and wounded students.

Sindell said this would hold up proceedings in the civil damage suit.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Thursday October 10, 1974 11

WAITING FOR SPIKE—Logan Elm's Joyce Pine (15) waits to play a ball hit by Circleville's Becky Moorehead (13) in a match Wednesday. Logan Elm won the varsity contest, while Circleville took the reserve match 15-3 and 15-4.

Ken Johnson's Dream A Reality

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Johnson had a dream.

More accurately, the Cincinnati Bengal defensive end had three dreams.

"My first dream was just makin' it, and there were times when I felt I could never do it," Johnson said.

"Then my dream became a chance to help the team and help us to win, and becoming a starter. I tell you, I feel good about starting and playing."

"My third dream—I want to make all-pro."

This has been a football season to make dreams come true for the 6-foot-6, 255-pounder that the team calls "Big In."

Johnson came in after the first half of the Bengals second game when defensive captain Royce Berry went out with a bruised shoulder.

His play so far has been evidence of Johnson's desire to prove himself this year.

"I came back despite the strike, determined to get myself ready, really prepared to play," Johnson said.

"It was what was important to me. And (Coach Chuck) Studley said at the start, we've got six good defensive linemen and anyone here could play on any team."

Johnson began his professional career as a tight end for Dallas. He was switched over to offensive tackle after he was signed in 1970. That was another strike year for professional football.

When the veterans returned, Johnson was put on waivers.

"They didn't think anyone knew anything about me," Johnson said, "and thought they'd get me on the taxi team. But they didn't know about the Bengals."

The Bengals quickly picked up Johnson and put him on their taxi squad. He was activated the next year.

Devotion to football came late in life to Johnson, who will be 27 years old Saturday, the day before the Bengals play the Cleveland Browns.

"I never gave pro football a thought during my senior year at Indiana," Johnson recalled.

He grew up in basketball country—Anderson, Ind.—where he averaged 23 points a game for his high school team.

"Everyone wanted me to play basketball, and you know how it is in Indiana. I was more interested in basketball too."

Johnson accepted a scholarship at Indiana, where he averaged between 15 and 18 points his junior and senior years at center.

"My game is physical," Johnson said. "I was physical in basketball. I liked to go to the hoop. My whole game is predicated on strength and mobility."

Panther-Tiger Tickets On Sale

Reserve seat tickets for the Circleville — Miami Trace football game Friday night at CHS may be purchased at the high school Friday or at the gate.

Other tickets will be sold at Bingman or Risch Drug Stores, at all Circleville schools Friday, or at the gate.

Tigers, Panthers Collide Friday

The Circleville Tigers, backed against the wall two weeks ago by Greenfield, will be out to disrupt the South Central Ohio League standings again Friday when they take on the awesome Panthers of Miami Trace.

The Tigers, who lost the league opener to Greenfield 6-0, posted their most impressive win of the year last week when they blasted Wilmington from the league lead with a 28-12 victory.

Washington C.H., Tiger opponents in two weeks, lead the SCOL with a 2-0 mark. Miami Trace is second at 1-0 and Circleville, Greenfield, and Wilmington have 1-1 records. Unioto is 0-1 and Hillsboro has lost its two league contests.

Miami Trace comes into the game with impressive statistics and some fine offensive stars.

The Panthers have rolled up 130 points enroute to a 4-1 mark. They whipped Northwestern 24-6, Bexley 28-0, Chillicothe 22-8, and Hillsboro 50-6. Only loss was a 42-6 drubbing by powerful Jackson.

The Panther defense, not counting the loss to Jackson, has allowed only 20 points. Overall statistics have MT opponents rushing for 530 yards and passing for 320.

The big-play offense has ground out 1,345 yards rushing and 261 through the air.

The Panthers suffered a severe blow in the Bexley game when star runner Tom Pfaff, was knocked out for the season with an injury. However Jeff Sagar and Tom Riley have combined in the backfield for over 1,000 yards total offense.

Sagar, a strong but quick fullback, has run for 564 yards in 87 carries. His totals are six yards behind the league-leading rusher, Gary Barr of Greenfield, who has handled the ball 149 times.

Riley, the Panther's league-leading quarterback, will switch on occasion to running back. He has rushed for 273 yards in 61 carries and is 21 of 42 in the passing department for 261 yards.

When Riley is moved to tailback, the Panther attack is led by Art Schlichter, who is rated as the top freshman grizzer in the league by CHS Coach Larry Cook.

He played most of the second half against Hillsboro last week, directing the Panthers to 24 points. However, he handed the Indians their only score in a fumble on the MT one-yard-line.

Circleville will be out for the win with the same gutsy crew that demolished Wilmington last Friday.

The Tigers, in rolling to a 3-2 mark, have scored 76 points while allowing the opposition 49.

Circleville has rushed for 1,076 yards and passed for 248. The Tiger defense has allowed 582 yards on the ground and 153 by passing.

Leading the attack is junior running back Biff Bumgarner who was the offensive star in the Wilmington game with 236 yards rushing. The total ranks him fourth in the SCOL with 449 yards in 80 carries.

Senior running back Pat McNaughton, who carried the brunt of the attack in early CHS games, has accounted for 300 yards on the ground and speedy Rick Samsill has run for 175.

The Tigers are blessed with two fine quarterbacks. Phil Roll has passed for 208 yards, completing 14 of 37 tosses, and Perry Hoskins is four of 10 for 60 yards. Circleville's defense will be handed the task of stopping the Panther attack which comes in a variety of sets from both a balanced and unbalanced line. While the Tigers are based on consistency, MT is considered a big-play team.

Key to the game, according to Coach Cook, is ball control. The team that makes the fewest mistakes, prevents the big play, and wants to win the most should get the victory, he feels.

The Tigers must stop the Panther inside running, option sweeps, and passing attack, he said.

Two of the Tigers of the week at the Wilmington game have been given starting slots. Tom England, voted the specialty team Tiger of the week, will start at offensive right tackle, and Jim Arledge, defensive lineman of the week, will be the defensive right tackle.

Biff Bumgarner was named offensive back of the week against Wilmington. Perry Hoskins was the top defensive back, and Jeff Lackey was the practice player of the week.

The Tiger coaching staff awarded 32 individual black stars in what was termed a "total team effort" against the Hurricane.

Development Of MAC Progresses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The development of the Mid-American into a 10-member football conference is nearly complete.

The second-last step fell into place Wednesday when the MAC athletic directors made new members Ball State, Central Michigan and Northern Illinois eligible for the 1975 football race.

The ADs, during their fall meeting at Bowling Green, also said Eastern Michigan, the other expansion school, would join the football championship in 1976.

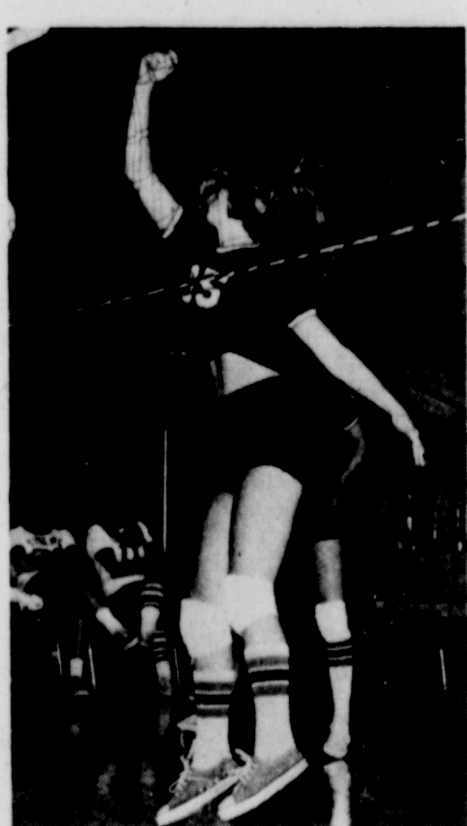

"Probably the toughest thing about expanding the conference has been the inclusion of expansion teams in championship play, particularly in football," Jacoby said.

Of the three joining the 1975 league race, the commissioner said, "This just allows them to become a real part of our entire conference picture so much sooner than had been expected."

Jacoby thanked Dayton and Indiana State for releasing Central Michigan and Ball State from 1975 schedule commitments, permitting the two to play the minimum of five conference games.

In turn, that made Northern Illinois eligible, too. Eastern Michigan will play only three conference games next season.

The other MAC members are Ohio University, Bowling Green, Toledo, Kent State, Miami (Ohio) and Western Michigan.

POWER VOLLEYBALL—The game played by the Logan Elm and Circleville girls is power volleyball, as demonstrated by this picture of LE's Kim Loper. Its the first year of volleyball for the Braves, whose coach is Kathi Thompson. Circleville's coach is Joyce O'Brien.

California Series Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's an All-California World Series for the first time, and Steve Garvey said the Los Angeles Dodgers wanted it that way.

"We said collectively that we want to play the best team," said Garvey, hitting star of the Dodgers' 12-1 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday that gave Los Angeles its first National League pennant in eight years.

"Oakland is the World Series champion and the American League champion again, so we have to beat them if we want to prove we are the best team in baseball."

The Dodgers — behind Garvey's two home runs and two singles, and Don Sutton's masterful pitching — whipped the Pirates Wednesday, winning the series three games to one. The two-time defending World Series champion A's eliminated Baltimore by the same margin in games for the American League crown.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Oakland A's go after their third straight World Series championship with ailing Reggie Jackson and the team's other erstwhile sluggers in a slump.

But the resourceful A's manage somehow to score, and they still have magnificent pitching to use against the Los Angeles Dodgers. Both were apparent Wednesday in the 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles which gave Oakland the American League pennant, three games to one.

The A's scored their first run on four consecutive walks in the fifth inning and another in the seventh on their lone hit, a double by Jackson following another of the 11 walks off Mike Cuellar and Ross Grimsley.

Winning pitcher Jim "Catfish" Hunter and reliever Rollie Fingers held the Orioles to five hits, with Baltimore finally ending a 30-inning scoring drought on Boog Powell's ninth inning hit.

Big High School Grid Powers Lead Computer Ratings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Upper Arlington and Warren Harding, two perennial state schoolboy football powers, are new Class AAA regional leaders this week in the Ohio High School Athletic Association computerized ratings.

Upper Arlington replaced Columbus Whitehall as the Region 2 pacesetter. Warren Harding beat Warren Western Reserve last week, replacing the losers as the top team in Region 1.

New Philadelphia in Region 3 and Cincinnati Elder in Region 4 retained their Class AAA leads.

The OHSAA uses the ratings to determine its state playoff teams after the regular season is completed. Each region leader qualifies for the Ohio semifinals in November.

The ratings are based on the strength of a team's schedule and those of its opponents. Margins of victory do not figure in the ratings.

Norwalk and Ironton were new regional frontrunners in Class AA while Bellaire St. John was the lone newcomer atop the Class A regions.

Retaining their Class AA leads were Wellington and Cincinnati Wyoming. Defending champion Middletown Fenwick, Windham and Montpelier again paced their Class A regions.

CHS Golfers Shoot Best Round Again

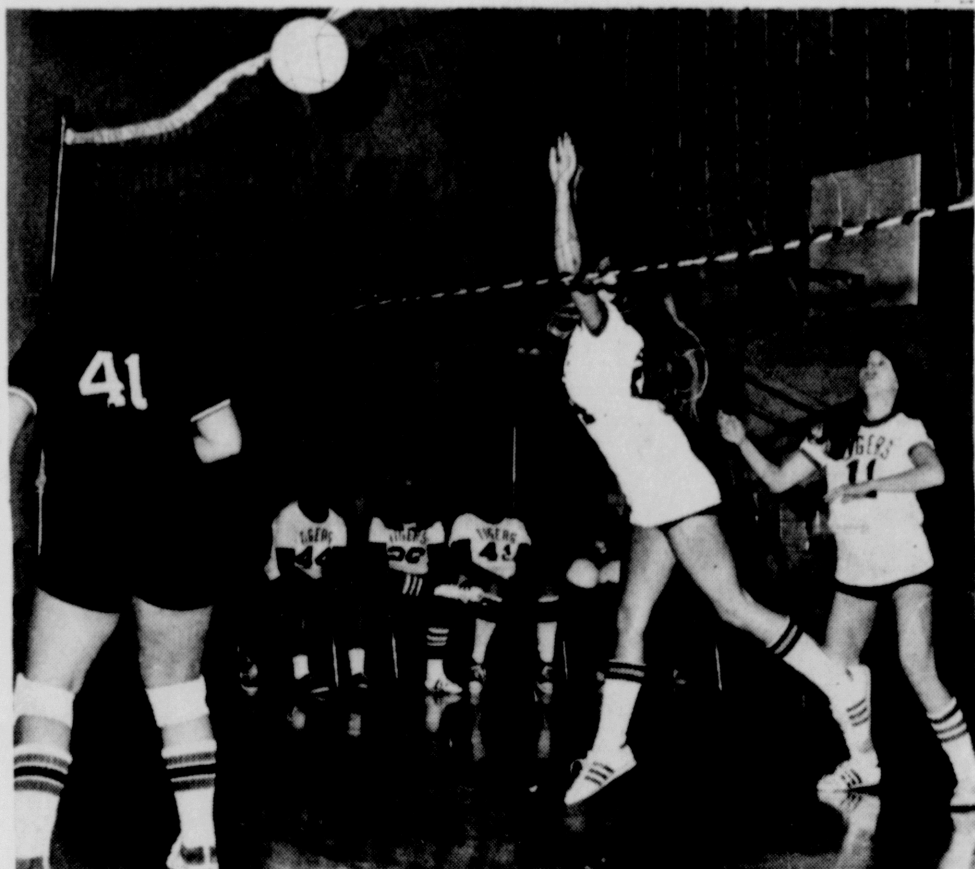

The Circleville High School golf team, preparing for the district match Friday, tallied its best-ever score Wednesday, thumping Unioto and Wehrle in a match at Pickaway Country Club.

It's been a hectic week for the Tigers, who lost their first league match in 10 starts, then scored a best-ever round Tuesday and broke it Wednesday.

CHS scored 151 points to 171 for Unioto and 183 for Wehrle.

Mark McFadden used seven pars and a birdie to score 36, Jeff Bohlenko and Jim England each had 38s with five pars and a bird, Jeff Spies had a 39 with four pars and a bird, and Keith Sanders fired 44 with four pars.

The Tigers will tee off 10 a.m. Friday at Marysville in the district meet. They will play with Bexley, Grandview, and Heath.

IN THE NET—Circleville's Nancy Radcliff (24) lunges at a shot that falls into the net in volleyball action between the Tigers and Logan Elm Wednesday night. The Braves won the match by taking the first game 18-16, dropping the second 15-6, and coming back in the third 15-13. Also pictured are LE's Rita Karshner (41), who served seven straight points to tie the final game, and Circleville's Lisa Leahy (11).

Judge Ammer Appointed Grand Sentinel Friday

Judge William Ammer was appointed Grand Sentinel of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Ohio at the annual state convocation held in Toledo last Friday. The Grand Sentinel is the first office in the line of succession which thru normal promotion over eleven years will result in the election to the office of Grand Commander of the state Masonic group.

The 26,000-member organization elected Lawrence M. Looker of Columbus as Grand Commander for the ensuing year.

Ammer together with the other Grand Commandery officers were installed at the annual banquet held Saturday evening.

Judge Ammer has been active in the local and division levels of Knights Templar for the past eighteen years. In 1962 he served as Commander of Scioto Commandery No. 35. In the Fourth Division he has held the offices of President, Deputy Division Commander and for the past seven years as Division Commander.

County Loses Construction Regulation

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County, a fast-developing area east of Cincinnati, has 15 days to appeal a state order which stripped its building department of power to regulate major construction.

The Ohio Board of Building Standards (OBBS) in Columbus took the action Wednesday saying the county department had failed to improve its inspection program during a probationary year.

Harold Bisantz, the lone Republican on the three-man board of county commissioners said he "was not the least bit surprised."

The state action, however, allows the building department to inspect construction of dwellings for three families or less.

All other projects, beginning Dec. 1, must be submitted to the Ohio Division of Factories and Building Inspectors in Columbus. Building permits will be issued in Columbus.

Violations of the state building code which posed threats of serious injury or deaths to occupants were discovered by an inspection team a year ago, according to OBBS Executive Director Hershel Davidson.

Davidson said the state took action after the Clermont department failed to improve.

"They have been making money off the people and haven't been giving them any service," said Davidson. "The people are being shortchanged."

The revocation also applies to municipalities served by the Clermont inspection office: Amelia, Batavia, Bethel, New Richmond, Newtonsville, Neville, Moscow, Owensville and Williamsburg.

Atomic Plant Expands Force

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Employment at the Portsmouth area atomic energy plant will increase by more than 20 per cent by 1979 under the plant's current expansion program, a spokesman said Wednesday.

Vincent J. DeVito, superintendent of nuclear material control for Goodyear Atomic Corp., said the present fuel and energy situation is increasing the demand for enriched uranium and nuclear plants.

The Portsmouth plant is steadily improving its facilities, he said.

The plant now has more than 1,800 employees, and about 2,200 will be working there by 1979, DeVito said.

Dairymen Ask Help

CHICAGO (AP) — Dairy farmers say skyrocketing costs for everything from baling wire to feed will drive them out of business unless they get a better price for milk, and the housewife could end up paying for it as early as next month.

Farmers and their representatives presented the message Tuesday at a hearing on a proposal by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to guarantee a floor price of $7.50 per 100 pounds of fluid milk.

The floor would mean an increase of 1.7 cents a quart over September prices to farmers, and previous pricing patterns suggest it would probably be passed on to consumers.

Witnesses at the hearing, which continues today, said that many dairy farmers are now failing to turn a profit because general inflation has been aggravated for them by lower milk prices earlier in the year and by higher prices for feed, the latter caused by early spring rains, a summer drought and an early freeze.

The proposed price floor would be a temporary measure until March 1, when prices are traditionally near their annual peak. The earliest the proposed price floor could become effective would be Nov. 1.

Last March, farmers received a minimum of $8.15 per hundredweight, but by July the price fell to a 1974 low of $6.29. The price has risen somewhat since then.

Agriculture and industry officials tried to respond to anticipated consumer concern by telling newsmen milk prices are expected to rise steadily between now and March anyway.

Herbert R. Forest, director of the USDA's dairy division in Washington, said minimum prices could be well above the proposed $7.50 minimum guarantee by March. He said the proposed floor's purpose is primarily to assure farmers of the a guaranteed level until normal seasonal conditions work the price upward.

Where It's A Pleasure To Do Business

Farm Leaders See No Drop In Price

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two Midwest Farm Bureau executives indicated farmers grudgingly will go along with President Ford's income tax surcharge but warned housewives not to expect food prices to drop during the battle against inflation.

"The surtax was a practical statement," said C. William Swank, executive vice president, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. "When you send young men to fight a war, some people might think that's unfair, but it's practical."

Swank and George Doup, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau, held a joint news conference Wednesday to discuss farm prices.

Swank asserted that higher food prices were a "frustration but not a cause of inflation."

He attacked organized labor for insisting unions are not causing inflation.

"Asking for more money and not producing more product is inflationary by definition," said Swank.

"In agriculture, we have increased production per acre, per man hour and by any other measure."

Swank said food prices will go down only when all other prices drop because the prices are determined by the cost of production.

Doup said full production sought by President Ford will only come if farmers can expect good prices. Otherwise farmers will leave the land and "go to town to work."

"If we have the prospect of satisfactory prices, farmers will produce," said Doup. "The farmer loves to produce. He doesn't like to cut back. He gets better profit by producing, but he has to have a good price to give him encouragement."

Swank insisted that food costs remain a smaller portion of the family consumer budget than five or 10 years ago.

"We've lost our benchmark and the housewife doesn't know what things ought to cost," said Swank.

Both said the cancellation of the contract to sell wheat to the Soviet Union will hurt farm exports.

"This will cause other countries to wonder when they place food orders if they will be filled," Doup said.

Both defended U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz.

Doup said Butz is not responsible for this year's poor weather. "We've had a triple whammy this year—a real wet spring, a dry summer and early frost."

Swank said Butz spoke with "candor" during the economic summit that farmers are entitled to the higher prices.

"One of the problems is that people do not want to hear the truth anymore," Swank said.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

The women of the United Methodist Church met Wednesday in the social room of the church. The opening song, "Have Thine Own Way Lord" was sung. Responsive reading "Wisdom and Understanding" from Proverbs by the group, was followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Lucia Spangler.

The nominating committee presented its new slate of officers which are as follows: Faye Pine, president; Lucia Spangler, vice president; Roanne Spung, secretary; Betty McJunkin, treasurer; Ella Mae Jenkins, pianist; Ruth Hunt, flowers; Margie Downs, spiritual growth; Betty McJunkin, christian social relations; Pauline Pearce, missionary education.

The society will send a Christmas gift of money to the Korean orphan they are supporting.

Plans for the bazaar to be held Nov. 7 were discussed.

Donations to the Birthday fund were given by Marie Pine and Letha Murray for her daughter, Tessie.

The program began with the group singing "Blessed Assurance". A reading was given by Marie Pine, "Without These Things" followed by two readings by Pauline Pearce, "The Minister's Wife" and "Once Was Enough". Letha Murray provided the music for the program.

A contest, Rhyme Time was introduced by Betty McJunkin and a Halloween contest featured by Marie Pine was won by Helen Welch and Lucis Spangler. Maude Hedges read "Bye Gone Day of the Church".

Refreshments were served at tables decorated in fall colors to 18 members and four guests by the hostesses Marie Pine, Faye Pine and Pauline Pearce.

Eddie Wolfe of Five Points was the Sunday dinner guest of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George Karshner.

Russell Jones is a patient in Berger Hospital. He is in room 105.

Durbin Good, a patient in Grant Hospital, is showing good improvement. He is in Room 727.

Lucia Karshner and daughter Rita were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolfe and family of Bremen.

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for several of our young people of the community. We wish much happiness to Cindy Mathews and Don Goeller who were married Sept. 27 at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, in Cincinnati.

Also congratulations to Debbie Vorhees and Rick Congrove who were married Saturday evening in the Tarlton United Methodist Church.

The women of the United Methodist Church met Tuesday morning in the church social room for a prayer meeting. The meetings will continue each Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. until revival starts on Nov. 3.

All women of the church are invited to attend. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rusty Kerns.

Joan Kennedy Faces DWI Charges

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — Joan Kennedy, the wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has been charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after her convertible crashed into the back of an auto stopped for a street light.

Fairfax County police said the charge on conviction carries maximum penalties of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine, and suspension of driver's license for six months. Police said, however, that such penalties are reserved for very grave cases that usually involve injuries or fleeing the scene of the accident, circumstances that don't exist in Mrs. Kennedy's case.

Police said Mrs. Kennedy was administered a breathalyzer test, but they would not disclose the results. The charge of driving under the influence is the only charge in the state of Virginia if alcohol or drugs are found above a certain level.

Mrs. Kennedy was alone in her car driving southbound on Route 123 at about 1:45 p.m. EDT Wednesday when her auto struck another southbound vehicle at an intersection. The other vehicle, driven by Edward F. McGrath, 49, of nearby Vienna, Va., was pushed into the car ahead driven by Mrs. Carol A. Pinder, 25, also of Vienna.

All three cars sustained damages that police said totaled around $1,400.

McGrath said Mrs. Kennedy was very apologetic after the chain-reaction collision and that she said she was "pleased there were no children in the cars at the time."

McGrath, a civilian employee in the Pentagon's telecommunications center, said he detected no sign that Mrs. Kennedy had been drinking.

"If she had been drinking, it didn't appear to be in any great degree," McGrath said.

Mrs. Kennedy recently has spent time in rest homes in Connecticut and California.

Sourdough Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Clyde C. "Slim" Williams, 93, who traveled in the 1930s by dog sled from Copper Center, Alaska, to Washington D.C., died Wednesday. A biography about Williams, "Alaska Sourdough," covers his careers as explorer, hunter, guide, lecturer and author.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

The thrill of a mystery or the tingling sensation that says there is adventure around the corner keeps readers glued to their book. A new paperback, "The Truth About Mary Rose" concerns the discovery of the true identity of a girl who died years ago. In her heart Mary Rose dreamed of being a heroine like her namesake who died saving a child in a fire. But her dreams of heroism die with the knowledge that the girl in the great fire was anything but brave. Good characterizations and a fast moving plot will hold the reader's interest.

Nancy, in "A Gift of Magic" has a sixth sense which often causes trouble for her. She finds it very difficult to explain how she knows the answers to test questions before the teacher says them aloud. Lois Duncan, the author, has created a very likeable, slightly puzzled, sensitive girl in Nancy. And her smoothly flowing style or writing keeps readers going.

"Mandy", Julie Andrews heroine in her first book, finds adventure in a secret little cottage where she can get away from her unhappy world. Girls who loved "The Secret Garden" will sympathize with the child who is most happy in her private world alone in the woods.

Miss Pickerell gets into unusual situations because she refuses to stay at home when there is excitement afoot. In "Miss Pickerell and the Weather Satellite" we have another in the hilarious series by Ellen MacGregor. The super-serious scientific community aboard the space station is in for mystery, some suspense and lots of fun with Miss MacGregor along.

For the more mature reader there is Alfred Hitchcock's latest collection "Supernatural Tales of Terror and Suspense." In addition to ghosts and hallucinations there is an intriguing fantasy about trains. A young boy's model train set becomes terribly real with deadly consequences for his family.

"Take a Number" by Scott Corbett is a very chilling mystery for older girls involving the disappearance of a teenager. The story of a clever gambler who kidnaps his own daughter is very suspenseful but would be suitable only for the reader who is not easily frightened.

Romance, death and powerful stories of revenge and murder fill the pages of "Two Queens of Heaven" by Doris Gates. In her retelling of the Greek myths, the author has included the story of Pygmalion who fell in love with a statue. And there is suspense in the story of Psyche who waits alone on a mountaintop for a monster whom she must wed.

Back down on earth Clyde Bulla gives us "Dexter." When Dave's neighbors abandon their horse Dave learns to cope with adults in the community who prefer to mercifully put an end to its life. This is a poignant story of a boy fighting for an animal with the odds against him. Simply written, it would attract the middle grade child.

Try all these heroic stories at your public library this week.

Jaycees Attend All-State

Circleville Jaycee members Jim Roese, Sam Reeser and Louis McFarland attended the October All-State Convention, Oct. 5, 6, 7, in Canton.

Accompanying the members were Sharon Roese and Pat Reeser.

The All-State is conducted to give the local chapter presidents and members a capsule training session, enabling them to promote the priority areas of the Ohio Jaycees.

Seminars were also held giving the chapter officers insight into leadership.

The Ohio Jaycees is comprised of 18,000 young men in 298 chapters between the ages of 18 and 35 with the purpose of leadership training through community involvement.

The October meeting was held at Wardell's with both Jaycees and wives. Topic of discussion was the Pumpkin Show Booth.

Quarterly awards were presented by Jim Roese, president. Awards given to Jaycees were: Mike Gilmore, officer; M. J. Ward, director, and Robert Conley, Jaycee.

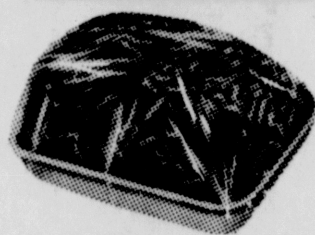

Cindy Gilmore and Terri Conley were presented awards for their outstanding service to the Jaycees's.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): If any of your plans have been blocked lately, THIS is the time to try again. Study new trends since you will soon play an active role in an unexpected situation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Remain your inborn optimistic self as you wade through weighty matters, complicated issues or just plain tasks. Time is very much on your side now.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A distant goal now seems to be within reach. Press on, and don't let others discourage you.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A new surge of energy should carry you far along the road to success and recognition. But keep an eye on the main objective. Don't go off on tangents.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): By investigating background information you receive, you may find a good way to improve your financial set-up. But DO investigate.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A good day for "pulling strings." Persons of influence will be highly amenable should you need their help.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Curb tendencies toward combativeness. You can be your independent self without being arrogant or domineering — and you'll gain more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): If you have doubts or uncertainties about launching a certain project, it would be well to heed. Try to find the underlying reason for your hesitancy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some unprecedented situations or unusual propositions indicated. Study well but defer taking action until early next week.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Under good Uranus influences, your imagination is heightened. Give your creative ideas the "full treatment." They should work out well.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some difficulty in communication likely. Be especially careful in what you tell another "confidentially." It could boomerang.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a great variety of talents and, properly educated, of course, can succeed in many fields. However, you differ from most Librans in several ways: You are not as practical as most. You rebel at routine and established principles, and you are far more emotional than the average Libra-born. A profession would suit your talents far more than a business career, and you could make a truly eminent name for yourself as a playwright, author, architect, lecturer or teacher. The mysteries of science — especially in the electronic field — would also appeal to you. Try not to scatter energies. Complete one project before beginning another. Having too many irons in the fire at one time will only make you nervous and irritable. Birthdate of: Samuel Clarke, Eng. philosopher; Eleanor Roosevelt, writer, lecturer, U.N. representative, wife of U.S. President.

New NFL Teams Fall To Veterans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As it must with all newborn babes, the cold, cruel world caught up with the Washington Capitals and Kansas City Scouts.

For 40 minutes or so Wednesday night, the Caps and Scouts played like veteran National Hockey League teams instead of the infants they are.

Then inexperience took its toll of the two teams, making their NHL debuts. In New York, the Caps were hit by a four-goal barrage and fell 6-3 to the Rangers. And in Toronto, a similar fusillade gave the Maple Leafs a 6-2 victory over the Scouts.

Canadian K. Wins Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Canadian K., going off at 9-1, won the featured pace mile at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night by a length in 2:07 and paid $19.80, $9 and $6.40.

By No Ko placed, paying $6.40 and $3.80 and Princess Dee A. was third for $4.60.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC-TV is bumping its low-rated "Sierra" series tonight for an excellent documentary about Xenia, Ohio, the small town devastated by a killer tornado last April and still rebuilding today.

The program isn't one of those quickies in which a network team checks right in after the event, returns six months later for progress footage, then pastes it all together and calls it a documentary.

It instead covers the Xenia story in stages, from the actual tragedy, to the town's effort to assess its losses and dig itself out, and finally to the long summer of still-continuing reconstruction. Entitled "Tornado! 4:40 p.m., Xenia, Ohio," the opening segment includes not only close-up footage of the disaster, filmed with a home movie camera by a Xenia resident, but also the actual sound of the tornado, recorded by another local resident.

It's chilling, spectacular material, to be sure, but the real meat of NBC's show lies in the quiet, low-key way it goes about reporting the reactions of the townsfolk to what had happened and what they hope will happen.

It makes particularly good use of photographs of the city's "old north end," taken the summer before the tornado by Xenia's former mayor, to illustrate what the storm had done to streets of stately old wood homes once surrounded by rows of elderly maple trees.

The verbal contrasts are equally good. A 14-year-old boy, recalling the moments after the twister passed on, said he heard no birds singing, and saw no neighborhood pets, "just people and trash."

His father, whose home and camera shop were destroyed, says he and his family aren't leaving, that "this tornado, dammit, is not going to have the last word."

The show primarily is about spirit and the spirit it conveys, is a good, hopeful one that should be seen by those of us who are convinced the nation has long since departed for hell in a hand-basket.

Producer George Murray obviously put in a lot of time, care and thought on this show, as did writer Patrick Trese, who also skillfully handled most of the interviews in the one-hour program.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Forward Steve Mix fired in 14 of 23 field goals and six of eight free throws to lead the Philadelphia 76ers to a 112-107 National Basketball Association victory over Houston in Dayton Wednesday night.

The 6-foot-7 four-year veteran was high scorer with 34 points. Rudy Tomjanovich led the Rockets with 24 points.

Grid Forecaster Sees Cardinals Edging Cowboys

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer
Is it in the Cards for St. Louis to be a contender in the National Football League this season?

The Cardinals, one of the surprises so far in 1974, seek their fifth straight victory Sunday when they collide with the Dallas Cowboys. St. Louis is also after victory No. 3 over a rival from the National Conference East.

The Cowboys, on the other hand, have lost three straight, something that hasn't happened to a Tom Landry-coached team in a long time.

The oddsmakers don't believe St. Louis can make it 5-0.

This Pro Pigs Picker doesn't agree, but first let's report that last weekend produced 11 correct calls and two incorrect. That leaves the season's effort at 34-17-1 for .667.

Now, let's get down to business:

Dallas (1-3) at St. Louis (4-0): The Cardinals have the stingiest scoring defense in the entire league but Dallas may give Coach Don Coryell's club its biggest test so far. It's hard to imagine the Cowboys losing four straight but ... CARDINALS 21, COWBOYS 20.

New England (4-0) at New York Jets (1-3): The Patriots have put more points on the scoreboard to date than any other NFL team ... PATRIOTS 24, JETS 17.

Houston (1-3) at Minnesota

32. Public Sale

AUCTION Friday nights, 7:00. Consignments wanted. Stouffville, Ohio. 474-1464. Col. Joe Hessler, auctioneer.

56 AUCTION every Saturday night 8 p.m. To consign merchandise: Call 474-2062.

35. Music Instruments

VITO alto saxophone. Like new. Originally $325.00. Will sell for $200.00. Call 474-7018 or 474-8115.

ATTENTION Piano Buyers. Baldwin piano is to be picked up in your area. Call or write Credit Manager, C.O. Graves Piano Co., 383 E. Broad, Columbus, Ohio, 228-2918.

(4-0): The Vikings should join the Cards and Pats in the pack as the only 5-0 clubs after this one... VIKINGS 21, OILERS 7.

New York Giants (1-3) at Philadelphia: The Eagles, favored by five, have given up the second fewest points in the league and it might be first after Sunday's game ... EAGLES 31, GIANTS 10.

Cincinnati (3-1) at Cleveland (1-3): Cincinnati is a nine-point favorite and only the Baltimore Colts have yielded more points (122) than the Browns (109) ... BENGALS 35, BROWNS 14.

Lifer Gets Chance For Prison Parole

FOLSOM, Calif. (AP) — "I sure would like to go home. I haven't seen the moon or the stars in 44 years." Ernest Dias has lived in a prison cell since 1930, when at the age of 24 he was convicted of killing a young couple in an attempted holdup.

Now, thanks to a recent court decision, he faces the prospect of parole next month.

"It's just one of those things. You've got to take the bitter with the sweet," Dias said in an interview with a fellow

Ford Wants Solid Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford would like to recharge the drive toward improved U.S.-Soviet relations by meeting this year with Russian Communist party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, but only if there is prior progress in major negotiating areas.

Ford said in his news conference Wednesday, "If there is reason for us to meet before that (the U.S.-Soviet summit meeting scheduled for 1975), I will certainly consider it."

Ford said he had promised when he took office to continue the detente policy of former President Richard M. Nixon and took up the subject with various Soviet officials, including foreign minister Andrei Gromyko about two weeks ago.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will discuss a possible 1974 Brezhnev-Ford meeting when he spends four days in Moscow later this month, the President said.

After the news conference, other U.S. officials said Ford is not interested in a mere get-acquainted meeting, strongly preferring serious discussions.

They said that in line with this thinking, Ford has made substantive progress a prerequisite in such areas as nuclear arms talks and balanced troop reductions in Central Europe.

What Ford wants is a precondition progress in the second round of strategic arms limitation talks, or SALT II, is an indication that a previous split in the U.S. administration on a negotiating position may be over.

The pace of detente has slowed considerably since Kissinger failed to achieve the expected progress on SALT II when he last visited Moscow last summer.

When Kissinger leaves for Russia, "We will have some guidelines for him to discuss in a preliminary way with the Soviet Union," Ford said.

There had been disagreement between Kissinger and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger over the scope of any pact limiting offensive nuclear arms as well as over the numbers involved.

Community Fund Drive

Chris Shuter, chairman of the business division of the Pickaway County Community Fund, reports his division has collected 27.5 per cent of the 1975 goal.

He noted that 36 per cent of the business division is in the Century Club.

A report of all the areas will be available Oct. 16.

inmate at Folsom State Prison, where Dias has spent the last 33 years. The interview appeared in the September issue of the Folsom Observer.

Dias, who grew up in the Oakland area, originally received the death sentence, but it was commuted to life imprisonment with no chance of parole. He spent the first 11 years in San Quentin Prison before being transferred to Folsom.

After capital punishment was abolished, the courts held the no-parole sentence unconstitutional. Last month an Alameda County Superior Court judge reviewed Dias' case and ordered he be given a hearing before the Adult Authority, now set for November.

"I have hope now after all these years," Dias said. "I've had enough of this place. I've seen the light. I want to keep working, possibly on a farm, when I'm paroled. The outside world will be strange, but I'll get used to it. I'll have to adjust."

Dias' prison counselor, William French, isn't so sure.

"It's as if he's been in a time capsule. He hasn't really thought about parole plans in the past, because of the sentence," French said. "Unless he has somewhere to go, it's cruel and unusual punishment to take someone after 44 years and say, 'Here's the street, goodbye.'"

Prison records show Dias has a brother in San Jose and a sister-in-law somewhere in California, but he has received only three or four visits during the past 15 years.

Accidents Injure 3

William F. Shantz, 30, Orient, was taken to Doctor's Hospital, West, Columbus, for multiple contusions and abrasions, received in a motorcycle accident 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Driving north on the Harrisburg-Darbyville Road, Shantz was rounding a curve when the cycle slid in some loose gravel.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman did not issue a citation.

Eighteen-year-old Jack D. Kramer, Route 1, Chillicothe, was cited for driving while intoxicated, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 4 a.m. today.

According to Deputy James Fite, Kramer was driving north on Wolfe Road when he went off the left berm into a ditch.

Kramer was treated at Berger Hospital for a nose laceration.

Dennis L. Jones, 18, 456 Dearborn Ave., passenger, was treated for a neck injury and abrasions to the right knee.

Emmett Chapel Services Set For Weekend

Mrs. Margaret Brabon will be the featured speaker in a weekend missionary convention at Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church in Logan Elm Village. Mrs. Brabon, with her late husband, Harold Brabon, spent many years as a missionary in Columbia and Ecuador under OMS International (formerly The Oriental Missionary Society).

Directing the program will be Wesley H. Haines, central regional director of OMS International. Mr. Haines uses his abilities in music, photography, programming, etc., to assist churches and pastors in missionary presentations. He is an accomplished vocal soloist and trumpeter.

The schedule will begin with a family carry-in dinner at 6:30 p.m., Friday. Rolls, drink and ham will be provided. At this session "Men For Missions" will be featured by lay-speaker, Norman Palmer, manager of Clear Fork Ski Resort in Butler. Mr. Palmer is also a teaching professional golfer, having been golf instructor and playing partner of President Eisenhower for four years, as reported in his book "Five Star Golf."

Following dinner Mr. Palmer will speak, Mr. Haines will report on Korea EXPLOR '74, and the film "Some Kind Of A Carpenter" will be shown.

Saturday evening at 7:30 Mrs. Brabon will speak and pictures of missionary work will be shown. Sunday morning Church School at 9:15 will feature a missionary emphasis and Mrs. Brabon will speak at 10:30. During this service there will be the "Faith Promise" ingathering. At 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Mrs. Brabon will again be the speaker and the film "I sent You To Reap" will be shown. Mr. Haines will be directing the program, singing and playing his trumpet in each service. The Rev. Robert P. Miller, Sr. is the pastor.

Man Appointed To Soldier's Commission

Upon the expiration of the term of Eugene Wilson, Judge William Ammer appointed Karl J. Herrmann to the position of member of the Soldier's Relief Commission.

Wilson has served in this capacity for the past 12 years and was thanked by the court for the manner in which he performed his duty.

The appointment of Herrmann is effective Oct. 15 through the same date in 1979. He will represent the Veterans of World War I as a member of the commission.

Gas Company To Offer Advice For Winterizing

Area residents who are considering insulating or winterizing their homes before the arrival of cold weather still can receive help from the gas company's free conservation consultant service, Calvin Danford, Circleville manager for Columbia Gas of Ohio reminded today.

Danford said the program to assist homeowners in their efforts to conserve energy is available to anyone, regardless of the type of heating equipment used in the residence, and inquiries can be made by writing or calling the "gas conservation consultant" at the gas company office 474-3188.

"If the consultant is not available immediately, the call will be returned as quickly as possible," Danford said.

"While our primary emphasis will be on discussing and recommending methods to reduce home heat loss, particularly through installation of additional ceiling insulation, other practical energy conservation methods — such as window caulking, weatherstripping, proper thermostat settings, etc. — will be thoroughly explored," he continued.

A number of "do-it-yourself clinics" also are planned to help homeowners who wish to add their own insulation or other conservation materials and the conservation consultant can provide information on times and dates of those in this area.

"All forms of energy remain in short supply and we hope area homeowners will realize the value of this free program and take advantage of it. It's a way to help not only themselves but the entire community at a time when further shortages of natural gas and other fuels could affect the welfare of many," Danford said.
